Pressure Continues For Needed School Facilities In Michigan

RELENTLESS AS THE PASSING OF TIME is the continuing pressure for more school facilities. If Michigan's citizens do not face up to the problem, the natural result will be a steady deterioration of the educational system. If they do, solutions can be developed and the "problem" controlled.

Biggest pinch comes at the college level. Masses of youngsters who clogged grade schools beginning years ago are now preparing for college. Campuses are already crowded; are in pressing need of classroom and other facilities. These take years to build. Reductions in state college and university budgets in the last session of the legislature meant a moratorium on building programs for this need. It also meant that most of the teaching staff, already on the short end of the salary stick, received no pay increases.

Results: The more competent staff members of the state institutions are hired away by other colleges and universities or by private industry; fewer good teachers to teach more students in increasing crowded spaces.

Unless ways can be found to finance sound education programs for those who want to attend college, today's high school student may not be able to become tomorrow's college student.

Pressure is still great at grade school level. Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of Public Instruction, recently pointed out that more than a million and a half youngsters are enrolled in public schools. In September about 70,000 more will be attending classes than last year.

Some 11,000 more classrooms are needed now; this despite the 4,130 which were built last year. By 1964 about 29,000 more classrooms will be needed.

The state requires 2,500 to 3,000 more teachers this year than last year. This makes a total of 61,000 teachers and administrators working in school systems.

Records show Michigan will spend about $725 million this coming year for educating its young people. This seems to be a large sum.

Whether it is a large enough sum or not is a decision every parent and every citizen should be anxious to make—a complete consideration of the facts.

SUMMER VISITORS are an important part of Michigan's economy. And some of them offer a resource that has hardly been tapped.

This potential was described by Don C. Weeks, director of the Michigan Economic Development Commission. "Among these vacationers are many manufacturers," he points out. "They like to come to Michigan because they enjoy our lakes, streams, beaches and the quiet comfort of our resort areas. It's quite possible that a goodly number would be willing to put a plant in Michigan where they like to play. Maybe they thought had never occurred to them—nor been suggested to them."

A well placed, favorable word from a service station attendant, a chamber of commerce official, a housewife, reminds Weeks, might be all that is needed.

To show that it can happen here, Weeks tells how Morley, a small community on US-131 in Mecosta County has a new industry. Bill Turner, a banker, overheard a stranger in town mention his intention to build a new plant. Mr. Turner didn't know the man nor did he have any idea about what he was speaking. He inquired around until he determined the man's name, his business and address. A trip to see the manufacturer resulted in selection of Morley as the site for a new plant, even at a time when the manufacturer was waiting for replies from several other communities to which he sent inquiries about facilities. The whole town pitched in to build the plant and now Morley employment is up by about 50 workers.

As a result of conversations with "strangers in town" two other small Michigan communities have "live" industrial prospects. These are Weeks. One of them became a good prospect because a large catch of fish made him enamored of the area he was visiting.

MICHIGAN FARMERS ARE EARING at least as well as last year, is the indication as this year's crops ripen for harvest.

Strawberries did the best in many seasons, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The weather was just right to produce a large crop of this tasty fruit.

Raspberries did well too, especially when a large carry-over of frozen berries was on hand from last year.

Grapes might be a problem. This year some 55,000 tons are expected. This compares with 48,000 tons last year. But the catch is the New York crop which will offer competition. New York will market almost twice the number of grapes as Michigan last year.

Michigan apples are in a bad way. Last year about 12,000,000 bushels should be produced. But the crop will have a rougher competition than last year's crop. The states had good growing weather. Peaches will amount to a 3,000,000 bushel crop. This year's crop is expected to be especially tasty.

TO THE MOTOR BUYING PUBLIC:

Don't Be Fooled!

Don't let claims of a few more miles per gallon sway you in buying a new car. At the most, you will save only $35.00 to $40.00 in a year and at the same time you will be sacrificing many other items which much more than offset this small fuel savings.

CONSIDER THESE POINTS —

SAFETY - CONVENIENCE - HIGH RESALE

Yes, it is very wise to consider the above points before buying. It is very obvious that a full sized car will be much more safe than the small undersized one. And as far as convenience is concerned, the wide doors and full sized seating arrangement of Chevrolet more than make up for any small gasoline saving the mite sized car might give you. As for re-sale value, a Chevrolet will make up any savings in fuel that you might total in one year, two years, three years or more.

Leading The Way . . .

Starting this month more than 275 daily and weekly newspapers of Michigan join in a cooperative effort to boost their local communities and the state by contributing space for a series of industrial development advertisements. This newspaper is proud to join with others of Michigan in such a program.

The advertising copy is directed to individual readers in an effort to arouse greater interest in industrial and community development. This is of the utmost importance as it is essential, if we are to continue to progress, that each of us be a salesman for our own community and for the great state in which we live.

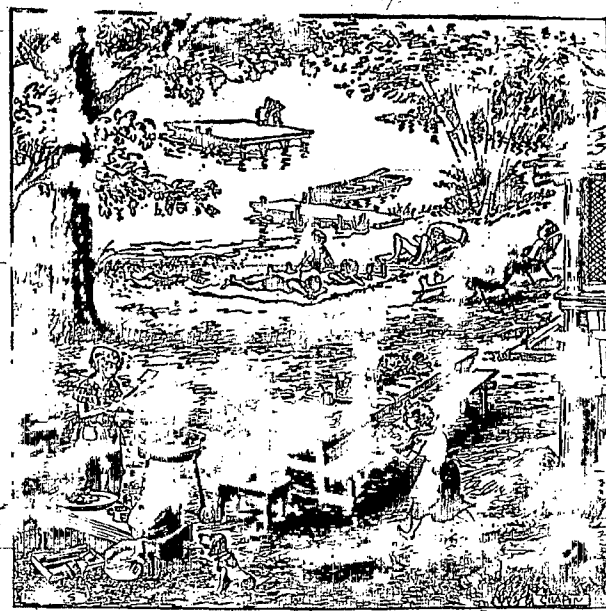

The program is a cooperative effort of the Michigan Press Association, with which the newspapers are affiliated, and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

William M. Day, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, and chairman of the Michigan Economic Development commission, in a recent statement declared: "Michigan newspapers are performing a great service in presenting this program. They are taking the lead in developing an understanding that people of every community need to have and they are showing a significant example of state-wide cooperation that will mean much to Michigan."

Lively "Corpse"

Remember the anti-chain-store agitation of the 30's? Writing in The Freeman, Julian H. Handler recalls it—and has something significant to say: "Two decades ago, the friends of the independent food merchant were ready to serve as his pallbearers. The corporate chains were making such tremendous growth that proposed legislation to tax them to their death seemed to be the independent's last hope. The plan failed and the independent was left to stand or fall on his own merits in the battle for survival under free competition.

"In retrospect, the campaign for chain taxation may now be considered as having been, in the long run, a liability for the cause of the independent. This could be true in that it suggested that the independent was not a fully efficient distributor, but instead needed a brake put on his competitor as an equalizer.

Furthermore, the independent has demonstrated that resourcefulness and cooperation are surer ways than government intervention to sustain progress and prosperity under the American system of free competition."

There has been an enormous growth in retail trade in all fields since the 30's—and the independents have gained their share. Those who forecast the independent merchant's impending death did him a gross injustice. He turned out to be the liveliest, most vital "corpse" anyone ever heard of.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

August 22, 1935

Contrary to early summer rumors hinting of discontinuance, the annual trip down the AuSable River is definitely set and will be staged the Sunday of Labor Day weekend. Orel Levan, general chairman of this year's event made the announcement. The AuSable journey is one of the most outstanding events this section offers summer visitors. It is one of those fetes which stands solidly on the merits of what it offers. No parade, no queen, no extra curricular activities are necessary to put it across. This year the committee will ask one dollar per person for the trip. This year, lunches and refreshment counters are to be erected at the noon-day stop. The first boats will get away from the starting point, probably the Grayling Bridge, at 7 a. m., arriving at the destination at sundown. Working with Mr. Levan are Holger Peterson, George Van Patten and Alex Atkinson.

Right out of a clear sky P. F. Prommer, a representative from the State Liquor Commission, appeared at the local state store Wednesday noon and tacked a notice on the front door that read "This store is permanently closed. Michigan Liquor Control Commission." Effort was made by Mayor Olsen and a few other representative citizens to find out why the store was being closed but Mr. Prommer seemed to be entirely blank on the matter except that he had had orders to close the place. It is apparent that Chairman MacDonald of the commission is due to have to resign and that he isn't getting along well with the Governor, and we have been wondering if the former isn't trying his best to embarrass Governor Fitzgerald in every way possible. We feel that some day we are going to learn the honest truth about why the store has been discontinued.

Mrs. Augusta Walt and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Cohen of Detroit spent the weekend at the Walt cottage at the lake.

Leo Jeambert of Detroit and Einer Rasmussen were Grayling callers Sunday coming to meet their wives who had returned from their northern trip.

Among those who followed the band over to Charlevoix Sunday were Mrs. B. A. Cooley, Mrs. Frank Sales, Elwood Robarge, Mr. and Mrs. John Charlevoix, Mrs. Earl Stafford, Mrs. Floyd McClain, Mrs. Ollie Cody and daughter, Helen, Mrs. Emil Niederer and Mrs. E. G. Clark.

City Manager C. A. Miller was in Lansing Tuesday to take before the Health department a proposal to extend water mains. His request was granted and now extension work will begin soon. New water mains will be laid on Brink St. and on Madsen St. from Fullerton to Brink, all on the South side. On the North side there will be additional extensions on Ingham St. from Maple to Chestnut; on Elm St. from Michigan to Ionia; Ionia from Elm to Park; Park from Ionia to Vine, with extension to the cemetery. In all there is a total of 3,900 feet of new mains to be added. Mr. Miller says that the new motors have arrived and at least one of the new pumps has been shipped and should be here soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stephan and children enjoyed a trip to Alpena and other northern towns Sunday, where they visited relatives and friends.

Miss Agda Johnson, who is employed in the Department of Pardons and Paroles in Lansing, is enjoying a week's vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Algot Johnson.

The National Log Construction Co. is so loaded with orders for their log products that they are operating with a day and night shift. A crew of 35 men are now on the company payroll.

Among those Graylingites who enjoyed Barnes Circus at Traverse City Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schram, Miss Marian Reynolds, Ronnow Hanson, Sam Gust, George Lutz, David Ward, Harry Ragan, Don Sharron and Miss Jayne Keyport.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wolff entertained about eighteen guests at the farm Saturday evening in honor of the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Halford Kittelman, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Richeson, and the house guests of Mrs. H. A. Barman, Dr. and Mrs. Plyler, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harris, Mrs. Harold Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woodson and Mrs. Olaf Michelson's guests, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Schley of Indianapolis arrived last week to spend a month at their summer home on Lake Margrethe. Mr. Schley says the heat in Indianapolis has been almost unbearable and that they are glad to get back to Grayling.

Elaine McDonnell left Sunday for Detroit, where she will be a guest for some time at the home of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Dingman. Sometime in September Elaine will enter the Wayne University for her second year's course in Home Economics.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McIntyre, daughter Nancy and son John arrived last week from State College, Pa., to spend their vacation at the lake. Mrs. McIntyre will be remembered as Helen Parr, who was formerly a Grayling teacher, and this was Arthur's boyhood home.

Mr. Ben Pankow and little Junior Marshall returned home Monday after visiting for some time with relatives in Flint. They were accompanied on their return by Mrs. Pankow's nephew, Grover Carpenter, who will visit them for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Bidvia have as their guest for a couple of weeks, Mrs. Bidvia's sister, Miss Elva Wenzel, of Rogers City. Charles Jackson, who is night watchman at the Kerry and Hanson Flooring mill, has purchased the Walter LaMotte house. Mr. LaMotte and family plan to move sometime next week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kangas had as their guests last week Mrs. Pynnonen and daughter Irene, of Chicago. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Kangas and son Donald, together with their guests, went to Lewiston, where they visited Mrs. Pynnonen's brother Jonas and family.

The State Liquor Control Commission seems to have it in for Grayling. Word was received morning that Spike's Class C restaurant liquor license had been revoked. Objection was made to the type of advertising he was doing.

Mr. and Mrs. William Christenson enjoyed a brief visit from William Rentschler of Hamilton, Ohio, Sunday, en route to Trout Lake.

Sam Smith, who has been employed as clerk at the Schlotz Grocery for the past ten years, has gone into business for himself. He has opened what will be known as Sam's gas station, on US-27 and will handle Shell

Last week Wednesday the Danish Sunday School held a picnic at Portage Lake. Only one accident occurred and that was little Ruth Sorenson being left in Grayling but Dr. Merriman came to the rescue and hitched up his horse and took her out to join the picnickers.

Irene LeSprance who has been visiting in Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, returned home Tuesday. Walter Shaw has been working at Brink's grocery. He drives the delivery wagon and Frank Sales is now clerk.

Miss Signe Ejlerson returned home from Big Rapids last week where she has been attending Ferris Institute.

The building of the Toledo Brewing company warehouse is getting along nicely. It is built between Sorenson's furniture warehouse and Banner Brewing Co. warehouse.

Ever since Alexander Hamilton told George Washington

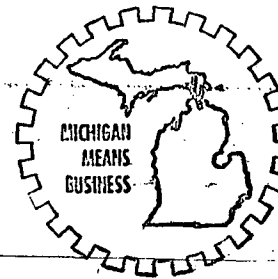

"Not only the wealth, but the independence and security of a country, appear to be materially connected with the prosperity of manufacturing . . .

"Whence it follows, that it is the interest of a community, with a view to eventual and permanent economy, to encourage the growth of manufacturing."

In these words Hamilton, Secretary of the Treasury, reported to the President and to the Congress on December 5, 1791 . . . and the book of industrial development was opened.

Above are three photos taken last Saturday of the Annual Review of the 46th Division Michigan National Guard. In the top photo, Commander in Chief, Governor G. Mennen Williams and top Guard officers return the salute of company commanders as nearly 8,000 National Guardsmen massed for the review. The review, high-lighted activities that traditionally mark the halfway mark in field training. From left to right in the photo on the review stand are: Maj. General Gordon A. MacDonald, commanding general of the division; Governor Williams; Maj. General George C. Moran, Adjutant General of Michigan; Lt. Colonel Harry F. Northrup, U. S.

Property and Fiscal officer; Brig. General Harold T. Weber, retired former assistant division commander and Brig. General Ronald D. McDonald, Quartermaster General of Michigan. In the center photo, the colors of the 46th Division come front and center as a colorful feature of the review. The flags of the various outfits made a spectacular ceremony as they led the marching band. In the bottom photo, the massed troops of the Division are seen in an aerial picture. The units forming soon wheeled to pass the reviewing stand seen on the far side of the Camp Grayling review field.

SEN. POTTER REPORTS...

From Washington

HEARTFELT THANKS to the generous vote given me in the primary elections. I am highly complimented at this sign of approval for my record.

THERE'S ONE thing about living in the past - it's much cheaper! An adjournment-bound Congress is facing up to this costly factor in its "yes" or "no" vote on money measures. Last week three such bills - between them affecting just about every man, woman and child in the United States - monopolized my time:

The first would help those self-reliant men and women who earn their living independently. They are being short-changed on retirement plans. The farmer who works his land, the physician, the engineer, the writer, the man who runs the corner drug store. And others, add up to ten million Americans not protected by the same retirement arrangements as employed workers. I spoke on the Senate floor last week in favor of a bill permitting self-employed persons to defer taxes on sums paid toward retirement policies or retirement trust funds. We allow employers to make deductions on money earmarked for employees' pensions, so why deny the privilege to the man who must save money for his own retirement?

Secondly, a long overdue hike in social security benefit payments is ready for Senate action and I am recommending an additional clause to protect our senior citizens. Social security benefits should be geared to living costs. I propose that we write an economic provision in the bill, tying benefits to the cost of living, so that they rise together automatically. I'm against waiting until the end of the session and ramming through a hasty bill every two years. Social security affects us all, young and old. It must never become a political football. Let's develop a practical, humanitarian and automatic means of adjusting benefits to the cost of living, so that all of our citizens will be treated fairly.

The third measure concerns small business. This Congress cannot adjourn with a clear conscience unless it passes a meaningful tax relief bill for small business. Over a year ago, I introduced a proposal which has the support of 59 small business associations representing well over a million member firms throughout the United States. The House chose to ignore the measure, passing something which is big business idea of what small business wants. Now, as the Senate prepares to take it up, I am for putting the "relief" back in the bill. I will introduce my original bill as an amendment, making clear to the Senate that this is what small business itself has called for. Briefly, my bill would apply to individual proprietorships, partnerships, self-employed persons and corporations. It permits special deductions for depreciable assets, set-aside of earnings in anticipation of estate tax, and spreading of certain tax payments over a ten-year period.

HAMTHAMCK Township was won by Colonel John Francis Hamtramck, a German-French Canadian who rose from the ranks to become General Anthony Wayne's best strategist in the Revolutionary Indian wars, and the first American military commander of Detroit.

Best wishes,
CHARLES F. POTTER
United States Senator

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

"Consumers Marketing Information Cooperating with County Extension Service"

Mid-August into October is the time when you may expect to find different size eggs on the market. It is the time of year when small eggs become plentiful and the large egg supply is below normal. This is because chickens from the spring hatch are now coming into production. They produce small eggs for the first few weeks, then medium size and finally at full maturity they produce large eggs.

Do you ever wonder which egg to buy? Small or large? There is a very definite guide which you can obtain from your home demonstration agent or county agricultural agent's office. It is a blue card - like a slide rule - which guides you in your selection. The basis for comparison between small, medium and large eggs is on the cost per pound basis. You can figure it yourself when you know that small eggs weigh a minimum of 18 ounces per dozen, medium eggs are 21 ounces and a dozen large eggs will weigh 24 ounces.

When large eggs are 59c, medium eggs at 51c and small eggs at 44c are all equally good buys. The difference in the price between small, medium and large eggs is 7c they are about equal value on a per pound basis. If the difference is greater, choose the lower priced; if less, choose the higher priced. We only compare prices on eggs of the same grade.

When it comes to convenience, economy and good nutrition - eggs deserve our attention. They are nature's original pre-packaged food.

They also deserve proper care both in storing and cooking. Eggs kept at room temperature for three days lose more quality than those kept refrigerated for two weeks. Put them in the refrigerator the moment you get them home. Store them with the small end down.

Carefully cooked eggs will yield satisfaction in tender, tasty protein. Cook them at low to moderate temperatures. Water in which eggs are cooked should be kept below the boiling point.

Morning, noon and night eggs can supply you with good eating in many ways.

Northern grown sweet corn is on the market now. Usually the early season price is higher than it is later - enjoy it fresh now and you can freeze or can some a little later. Remember an hour in the hot sun after the corn is picked can turn the starch to sugar. For best eating quality hurry it into the kettle, to be eaten at once - or into the refrigerator if it is to be kept. Keeping it cool will keep it sweet.

Red Haven peaches from southwest Michigan are here to announce the peach harvest. We know that other varieties will follow and when the Elbertas show up you'll know the peach season is about over. Jack Bitner, District Marketing Agent in Benton Harbor, tells us that the peach crop is a big one. More later about canning and freezing.

Kaska Plans Walk Day

Many famous "Maxwell St." displays will be on the sidewalks of Kaskaskia on Tuesday, August 28, when local residents plan to celebrate a day of their own. The sidewalks will be lined with displays just like in the past.

The day will be an occasion for citizens to gather for many reasons. It is an excellent opportunity to display an exhibit, a collection of books, a display of goods, or a collection of pictures. It is also a chance for the community to meet and greet one another.

Benefit Checks Total $250,000 in County

The Social Security Administration has announced that the total amount of benefit checks paid in Crawford County for the month of July was $250,000. This is a significant increase from the $200,000 paid in June.

The increase is due to a number of factors, including a rise in the number of people receiving benefits and a change in the types of benefits being paid. The most common types of benefits paid are retirement benefits, disability benefits, and unemployment benefits.

Wiles also stressed that while the benefits are intended primarily as a basis for individual economic security, the payment of social security benefits at the rate of $200,000 a year in Crawford County is generally because most of the money is spent immediately on food, clothing, and other necessities.

"This is especially important in times of economic recession," he said. "Social security benefits are paid nationally at a rate of more than $1 billion dollars annually."

Payments to a retired worker average about $65 per month, Wiles said. The average for a widow with two young children is $145, the maximum payment for a retired couple is $162.80 a month, and the maximum for a family is $200.

There were several reasons for the increase in benefits over last year, Wiles said. One was the payment of benefits to people who were brought under the law for the first time in recent years — self-employed farmers — for example. Other reasons for the increase were the reduction in the retirement age to 62 for women and the starting of disability insurance benefits to disabled people 50 or over.

Mr. Wiles agreed that one factor in the increase may be the business recession. "I'm sure some other people who would have preferred to keep on working have been forced to retire because of the general business conditions," Wiles said. "Also some mothers may be getting survivors insurance benefits for themselves as well as their children because they have lost jobs as a result of the recession."

Many of these people would have been forced to turn to public assistance as soon as they exhausted their unemployment insurance rights, Wiles said. The result would have been a further increase in public welfare costs, costs which are paid out of general taxation.

The table below shows the number and amount of each type of benefit being paid in Crawford County.

Beneficiary Group	No. of Beneficiaries	Total Pay
Retired Worker	208	13,704.00
Wife or Husband	72	2,376.00
Widow/Widower	30	1,346.00
Mothers & Children	80	3,200.00

For the entire State of Michigan, social security payments at the end of 1957 were being paid to 476,239 beneficiaries at the rate of $20,235,700 per month.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Traffic Stopper

Every so often I see little things that prove that folks really are pretty wonderful!

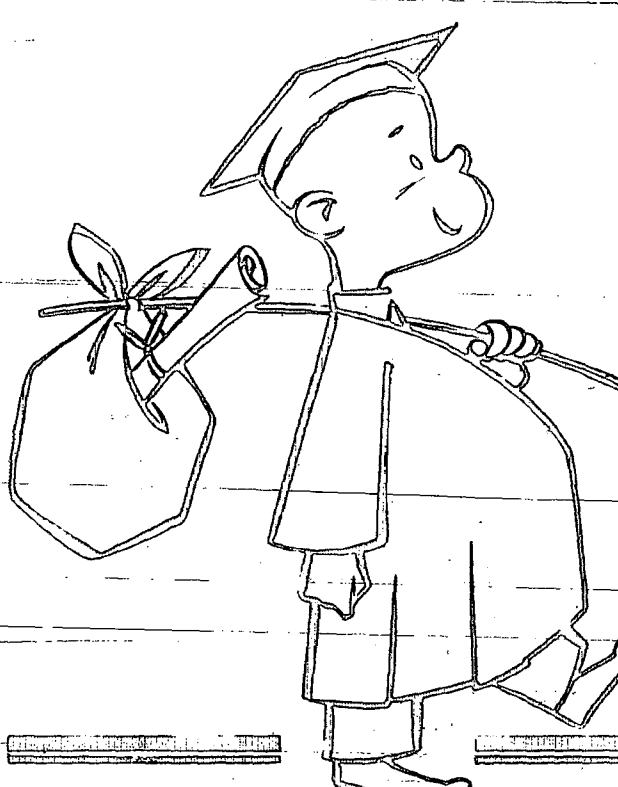

Take last Saturday. I was downtown when I saw a middle-aged woman about to cross a busy street. Just as she started, the light changed, and she hurried back to the curb. But the big moving van that was first in the long line of cars had not moved.

"You cross first," the driver of the van yelled. "But you're holding up traffic," the woman said. "Lady," replied the driver with a good-natured wink, "let's just say you're so good looking you're stopping traffic!"

From where I sit, something like that makes the "doer" and the "receiver" both feel good. It's like the friendly feeling you get when your hostess eggs out of her way to serve you beer—even though she doesn't drink it herself. That's pretty wonderful, too!

Joe Marsh

Go forth, young man

... we can't use you here

Is this the word to our young people — able and beloved — when they've finished school and are ready to start making their own living?

Too often it is, in the smaller communities like ours.

Why don't we have more job opportunities and more business opportunities right here, so that more of our sons and daughters can establish their homes and be happy and prosperous here at home?

It's partly circumstance. Partly the natural limitations of the economy of our area. Partly because we haven't been quite aggressive or enterprising enough to build and grow more.

But it's also partly because many of us have let ourselves get into the habit of spending too much of our money somewhere else.

Every dollar that we spend away from home is a dollar less to circulate among us and to account for 2 or 3 or more dollars of added trade volume as it moves from hand to hand.

Keeping more of this easily available trade volume at home is one way by which we could create and sustain more local opportunities for our young people. And for ourselves.

naires to their guests. Local restaurant owners, retail store proprietors, and gas station operators are most co-operative in permitting interviewers to work in their places of business. The golf course and the canoe livery are returning completed forms each morning. Questionnaires are available at the dentist's and doctor's offices, beauty parlors, barber shops, and the Post Office. Tourists have been contacted at the municipal picnic area and at Hartwick Pines. Operators at Lovells and Frederic are also participating.

Last Friday, the goal of 300 completed questionnaires was reached for the first time. It is hoped that this pace can be continued until the end of the survey, so that the best results can be obtained.

More local assistance is needed. If you can help in this community project, the first of its kind in Michigan, call Bob Hayes at the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce. (3336).

LES HUNTERS ENTERTAIN AUSTRALIAN FRIEND

Miss Elaine Ferguson of Cairns, N. Queensland, Australia, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hunter here on their honeymoon. She plans to stay until the latter part of October. Miss Ferguson became acquainted with the Hunters when Mrs. Hunter's brother, Elmer Dwyer, was stationed in Australia during World War II, and hospitalized for burns. She was employed by the army during that time. She began corresponding with Mrs. Hunter, and has continued to do so for 16 years. In July Miss Ferguson began her trip to the United States, which she had been curious to see, and came by way of Honolulu to land at Vancouver. She took a bus from there across the northern states, but was delayed in Butte, Montana, when she suffered an accident which required her to be hospitalized for a few days. This almost made Miss Ferguson give up her Michigan trip, but she was later persuaded to come, and has made a most interesting and enjoyable guest since her arrival. Miss Ferguson speaks with an accent sufficiently English to be immediately recognizable, although she would undoubtedly prefer to have it called Australian. She has a charming way, undoubtedly a national habit, of ending each sentence with a rise in tone, rather than our American way of dropping the tone. And her accounts of life halfway around the world are presented in a concise, fascinating choice of words.

Bruce C. Clarke, the new 4-star United States Continental Army commander, who formerly commanded the Seventh U. S. Army in Europe.

Activities of the past weekend centered around the annual visit of Gov. G. Mennen Williams. On Saturday afternoon nearly 9,000 massed troops passed in review for him with some 5,000 civilian spectators watching the traditional ceremonies.

As a prelude to the review, the commander-in-chief presented the Eisenhower Trophy to Company D, 125th Infantry Regiment, of the 3rd Infantry Division, which had been selected as the most outstanding company-sized unit in the Michigan National Guard.

He also pinned the Brig. Gen. Earl R. Stewart Medal on Master Sergeant Donald H. Hart, D-425th Infantry Regiment, who topped a field of seven finalists in the annual competition to select the outstanding enlisted soldier of the 1958 field encampment.

On Thursday afternoon the armored units of the Division will begin the movement of their tanks from the Armored Training Center located eight miles northeast of Grayling to the newly established concentration site at the Grayling airport.

Late Friday units will break camp and begin to make preparations for the movement back to home stations early Saturday morning. Unit commanders will also take advantage of a few spare hours on Friday to make up any lost training time before the first unit departs.

The last of the packing of equipment will be completed about midnight Friday with the 107th Medical Battalion of Detroit scheduled as the first unit to depart at 2 a. m. Saturday morning. Military convoys, commercial buses and National Guard planes will be used for the move back to home stations.
